A Cold Canadian Winter

Ministry looked a little different recently as I spent four months back in Canada for my home assignment. It was an adjustment to be back in Canada for the winter. This is the first time I have been home during the winter months. In spite of the cold, my heart was warmed as I had some great times reconnecting face-to-face with family and friends.

Visiting with Family and Friends

It was such a blessing to be home for Christmas and to spend time with my sisters and extended family. One of the difficult parts about living overseas is time away from family and close relationships. I am so thankful for the extended time to be home and enjoy special times with those I love.

Connecting with friends and worshipping together in my home churches in Stouffville and Waterloo warmed my heart. Thank you to each person that I had the opportunity to spend time with. I am so sorry that the time flew by and I missed some of you! Sometimes it is difficult to juggle all the differing priorities in such a short time!

Looking Ahead

I am excited about reconnecting. We have seen some staffing changes while I was gone, so please pray for me as I begin to build a relationship and teach two new students. I will also be continuing to teach and mentor another five people.

We will be losing some key volunteers this summer. The couple who has led our Sunday service will be returning to the USA for a while and then when they come back will be moving to a new place. We are praying for a person/couple who could join us in giving leadership to our Sunday service. We are praying for someone who can relate well to the people that we work with. Another couple who plays a significant role is also leaving this summer. They too, will leave a big hole in our team of volunteers.

Connie and Richard will be on home assignment from August to December. Their youngest daughter will be starting college and so they will be home a little longer than usual in order to make sure she is adjusting well. They are in process of asking some people to fill in for them while they are gone. Please pray that the right people will be available for this time.

Thank You!

I want to say thank you for your continued support and prayers for me. I could not do what I do without you! I am so humbled by the privilege that it is to serve in partnership with you! God Bless!
